Welcome to Issue 3

Your go to guide for the spring months

Welcome to our first issue of 2025. I hope you had a lovely Christmas and New Year and 2025 is off to a great start.

I would like to begin by saying a huge thank you to Elena Niculae Photography for our beautiful spring cover photo. I would also like to give a big welcome to Staffordshire Maternity Voices and Gloworm festival, in the magazine you can find articles from both!

We are thrilled to have introduced a new feature for 2025, you will find 'Lots of parties' on page 4, where we shine a spotlight on the fantastic birthday parties on offer in different regions. This issue includes three soft play party packages.

On page 18 you will find an article from Everyone Active on the importance of swimming lessons for your little ones, and page 7 has our Let's Talk Dads article where we catch up with Roddy post Christmas.

As usual, we have lots of events for you at the beginning of the magazine and of course the weekly guide at the back. Enjoy!

I hope you have a wonderful spring. I'll see you in May for Issue 4!

Let's Talk Dads

Hi! I'm Roddy, I have a wife (Laura) and 4 children, two boys & two girls (aged 10, 8, 4 and 2).

I hope you all had a great Christmas and an excellent start to 2025! We've had an action packed last couple of months and with six in the house there never seems to be any stopping! Christmas time was jam packed with school fairs, nativity performances, church events and an abundance of friends and family.

In the midst of it all though it was great to have some time off to actually stop and spend time with the family, something which we feel can get lost in the day to day run of life. Christmas really provides us with time to invest in each other and remember what's important for our family life - which can so easily get lost in the busyness of the day to day things (school, work, clubs, etc). Obviously it comes with its own struggles, exhausted kids from the school term, illness and all the preparation for Christmas Day (which I'm reminded I only see/do a small part of). As a father I find it a real privilege to be able to see my children's excitement over Christmas, not just for the presents, but for all of the traditions, food and just all being in the same place at the same time for more than a few hours.

For New Year we travelled down to Bath to spend it with some friends - who also have 4 children - it was a lot less chaotic than you'd imagine with 8 children, though they're all getting a bit older - it does change!

I was also able to take our eldest to an FA cup match which he loved - it was the team he supports against mine- he was much happier than me by the end of the match.

With the end of the Christmas, normal life has resumed, along with it's normal routines and rhythms of life. There's never a dull moment in this house, which will mean more to write here in the future! As we have begun to wade through 2025, I want to make sure that particularly as a father, I don't get lost in the "to-do" lists of life, but actually take the time out to enjoy the little moments we do have together each day, whether it's breakfast with the little ones (which is WAY too early most of the time) or listening to and guiding the older ones as they navigate their way through growing up. The jobs will still be there to do- but we won't get today back with our babies, so let's make the most to be present in the 'right now'! Chat soon everyone.

STAFFORDSHIRE & STOKE-ON-TRENT Maternity & Neonatal Voices

Working in partnership to improve maternity & neonatal services

Your Voices Matter

Hello my name is Alexandra and I lead the Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent Maternity and Neonatal Voices Partnership.

The Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent Maternity and Neonatal Voices Partnership (“MNVP”) is a working group who play an integral role in shaping maternity and neonatal care across Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent. Our MNVP is made up of a team of women, birthing people and their families working together with Clinicians (like midwives, doctors, neonatal nurses), Commissioners (like Council staff) and Community organisations to review and contribute to the development of local maternity and neonatal care.

We meet regularly online and in person, attend antenatal and postnatal clinics, community groups and other events.

Are you pregnant or have you had a baby in the last 3 years?

We are keen to hear about your experiences with local maternity and/or neonatal services and would love for you to share your story with us, including what went well, what was memorable and even what you feel didn't go so well or could have been improved throughout your journey. You can complete our survey online or get in touch and we can arrange a time to give you a call and have a chat. Any extracts from what you say that are quoted will be anonymous.

We are passionate about improving the experiences of women and their families. My role is to both listen to and amplify, the voices of our local community and elevate the voices of diverse, maternity service users in Stoke on Trent and Staffordshire. By listening to the voices of our community the MNVP can help ensure that the needs of all those who rely on these services are met.

If you would like to speak to us please get in touch.

EXTRA SWIMMING LESSONS COULD SAVE LIVES

Learning to swim is a vital life skill which every child should experience.

Swimming lessons at Meadowside Leisure Centre in Burton and Uttoxeter Leisure Centre help children to have fun and be active, as well as giving them the ability to get out of potentially dangerous situations.

The centres are run by leading operator Everyone Active in partnership with East Staffordshire Borough Council.

The need for extra-curricular tuition is clear, with Sport England stating that nearly one in three children leave primary school unable to swim 25m unaided.

Everyone Active can help your child to learn a skill which could save their lives, thanks to its award-winning learn to swim programme.

The programme offers lessons for all ages and abilities, with child classes starting at four months, right through to adult classes. All swimming teachers are Swim England level 2 – or equivalent – qualified.

All stages are progressive and continually assessed. Children also have the opportunity to develop water safety skills and to take part in other aquatic disciplines.

To find out more, visit everyoneactive.com/centre or phone Meadowside Leisure Centre on 01283 372 960, or Uttoxeter Leisure Centre on 01283 372 980.
